FAIR A SUCCESS IN SPITE OF THE RAIN

Great Show of Horses, Mules, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Floral Hall and Poultry House Filled.

Raia, which fell in torrents most nll of Wednesday came pretty near knocking out the fair the first day, but the exhibition went on, notwithbut the exhibition went on, notwithstaading and n large portion of the program for that day was shown.
The rest was carried over until Thursday, and all but four riags were disposed of. They will be a starter for this morning's program, and as they iaclude the big $200 saddle stake, a great crowd should witness them. The program for today is parthem. The program for today is par-ticularly good. Mostly saddle and harness horses will be shown and ns they excite more interest than nny other riags, everybody in this section who can will be on hand to see them The riag is in perfect condition after the hard rain and there is no such thing as the pestiferous dust to be seea. The grounds present a pretty picture with the green sward, the pretty lake and the dozens of tents, etc. The fair is a delightful place to spend the day and if the weather is as good as it now promises to be, a record-breaking crowd will witness the program of the third and last day. The management feels to con-gratulate itself on getting the high-class judges it was able to secure. Messrs. John Dolan, James Gay, Thomas F. Curtis, A. D. Leavell. James N. Deany, H. A. Pickett and others belong to a class that it is exceedingly hard to find, to say nothing of excelling. The show stock is good both in quality and quantity. There nre fully a huadred show horses, lots of mules, cattle, sheep, hogs, etc. Space forbids this issue giving the names of the lucky ones in the Floral Hall and Poutlry House, but these will be given in detail in Tuesday's paper. Smith & Lucas, of Lebanon, are here with a handsome lot of horses and they are getting their share of the money. The Danville Military Band is all right. It makes good music and is composed of gentlemen with whom it is pleasing to deal.

He has already won two blues at the fair here. J. Nevia Carter, who has been laid up with rheumatism for some time, was able to be at the fair Thursday. His illness prevented his showing his good stallion, Kentucky Gentleman. Capt. John B. Dinwiddie, the "silver-tongued," was there with the goods as ring marshal. His stentorian voice could be heard all over the grounds. Even the Danville Brass Band could not drown it. Jack Beazley is the most untiring worker yet found. After working over time Tuesday he put in Tuesday night sprinkling the road between the fair grounds and town and wouldn't quit until after it had rnined a half hour or so.

The location is a beautiful one, but the fair grounds are too far from town. They are all right for the Garfrom town for those coming from other sections. Pity Ed Ballard can't move them in just a little.

FEEDING SOLDIERS SOME JOB

Here are some facts from Farm and Fireside which shows just how big a task it is to feed nn army from which these figures are taken says:

"At the rate of four pounds of foodstuffs a day per soldier, which is the ration for camp or garrison, 4,000,000 pounds will have daily to be provided for the troops. This is something of a task. Of fresh beef alone there will be call for 1,250,000 pounds. The army will drink 35 tons of coffee daily. Two huge train loads of foodstuffs will be required each day to carry the provisions for the force in question. Think of furnishing the meals for a great moving and Fireside which shows just how nishing the meals for a great moving city of a million people, or of provisioning a thousand or more great ourfew cuses, and you will have a better idea of what feeding the new army

means." HONOR THE SOLDIER BOYS

Mr. T. D. Newland made a good suggestion to the Interior Journal the other day when he said that Staaford ought to do something for the delectation of the patriotic young mea herenbout who will soon be called to war. He says he is willing to subscribe liberally to n fuail to give them an entertainment some kind. The suggestion should and doubtless will meet with favor all over the county. We owe it to the boys to make it pleasant for them while they nre yet in our midst, as well as to do all in our power for them whea they leave us. terior Journal will be more than glad to heln with n fund to give the boys a rattling good time before they go and moves that others be heard on the subject.

A boy baby, presumably ten days old, was found in the yard of Mitt Embry, colored, in Macksville, Saturday about aoon. Where the little fellow came from, or who left him there is a mystery so far, nlthough an effort has been made to ascertain something about him. A change of clothes was left with the infant, but there is nothing that would reveal bride many years of happiness and City Attorney T. J. Hill have taken the mntter in hand and will institute a search for the mother and father. In the mean time the boy is being cared for by Embry's wife, who nlready has become quite attached him. Several doctors were called to see the boy, but none were prepared to say to which race he belongs.

The splendid in-dorsement he received in his home county of Boyle turned the trick, as his opponent carried the other three counties. A GROWING MENACE

The so-called Industrial Workers of the World, which is operating with such destruction in Washington, Arizona, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, is a growing menace to the laws of the lend and unless nut down by federal bayonets will continue to spread terror through the country. It appears to be operated in the interest of the German government. In a speech the other day Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, said the people generally are not aware of the danger that lurks in the body in which murder is reduced to a science and perjury is a fine art. Unoffending vicitms are murdered and by reason of a prearranged alibit the guilty person goes free. It is the most treasonable organization that could be organized and the senator said instead of the initials of the gang standing for what it purports to, it really stands for "Imperial Wilhelm's Warriors." Such an organization should not be permitted to exist in this country. It is an arch evemy to the government and a destroyer of all social obligations. As evidence of its total deprayity this selection from its song book suffices: "Onward Christian soldiers, rip and

"Onward Christian soldiers, rip and 'ear and smite; "Let the gentle Jesus bless your dynamite; "Smash the doors of every home, pretty maidens seize;

"Use your might and sacred right to treat her as you please."

It will be remembered that four so-called Democrats united with the Republicans some ten vears ago and defeated Senator Beckham, who was the Democratic nominee for the United States senate. All of them are dead except McNutt and probably getting their deserts in hades, McNutt is still with us, the more's the pity, and has come out a full fledged Republican, since the Democrats so unceremoniously turned him down at the primary when he had the gall to run for commissioner of Jefferson county. When the Bible speaks of the last end of that man belong worse than the first, it possibly had McNutt in mind if such a creature could be of so much importance.

Paul Maywoon refused the benefit of clergy before being led to the electric chair at Trenton, N. J. As he killed a man, his wife and their daughter he doubtless felt that preachers could do him no good and the sooner he began his sojourn in hades, to which he was certain to go, the better.

One-fourth of the marriages in Louisville during the year proved failures. There were 2.554 marriages and 660 divorces. The judges say that most of these misfit marriages resulted from Jeffersenville unions that are made in haste to be remembed at leisure.

We hear a good deal about punishing slackers and obscure men for treasonable utterances against the United States. They doubtless get all that is coming to them but if such men as Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and others who sit in the seats of the mighty were made to do time for their treasonable utterances the effect would be decidely more impressive. In a speech in the senate the other day, Vardaman declared that the war was instigated by commercial bandits and is reproach to civilization, and that the president made a mistake when he called the negro to arms. He also grew red in the face as he denounced the draft, which he says will leave a problem more difficult and disastrous than the sudden emancipation of the negro. If this successor of Jefferson and Lamar in the so-called greatest deliberative body on earth would go to a barber and have the long hair, that the Bible says is a shame to a man, clipped to the skin and then have the good sense to keep his mouth closed he may escape the punishment that he richly deserves.

Georgia has at least one pestiferous citizen who ought to be muzzled. It is Thomas E. Watson, who can for president several elections ago on the populist or some such ticket. He is nearly always in trouble with the government, if not for sending obscene literature through the mails for some other offense. He is now devoting his energies to defeat the working of the draft and was to have spoken at Macon against it a few days ago, but sensibly called his meeting off when he found that federal officers would be on hand to take him in tow if he said a word amiss. The sooner Georgia abates this nuisance the better it will be for her reputation.

Though not a great man in the full acceptance of the term, Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, who died Friday night at Asheville, N. C., of uraemic poisoning, was long a power in his state and a democrat, who could always be depended upon. He was Bryan's running mate in 1908 and in 1910 was elected to the United States Senate after a memorable contest over Senator Beverage and became his party's leader in that body. His term expired in March last, having been defeated for reelection by a Republican, the more was the pity.

The leader of the mob that murdered defenseless negroes at East St. Louis, Ill., pleaded guilty to rioting and conspiracy to commit murder and was given a sentence of nineteen years for the two offenses. This seems only a part of what should have been coming to him. Hanging is too good but the northern people evidently are of the impression that it is not a capital offense to kill a negro.

With hogs bringing the aristocratic price of $20 a hundred it may soon be regarded an honor to he called a hog, instead of a reflection as at present.

abundance was sprend upon the green sward and beneath the overlanging boughs of giant oaks, crowning with their grateful shade the sacred spot whereon the clans had met for the second time to do honor to the Tribble name. A remembrance of this event, good cheer and hospitality, will form in my heart a legacy and a treasure that will grow brighter and righter "as the years go rolling on," and prepare us, as I trust it may, in some sweet day, to meet in the higher, grander heavenly realms where spearations and partings never come.
To give even a synopsis of all the talks to which we listened would take up too much space—so let it suffice—they all did well; but I must be pur loned in saying in conclusion, the best talks.
